

Sunstate Accommodation / Residential Security

Written by Jeremy

Thursday, 10 November 2011 23:56 - Last Updated Thursday, 27 September 2012 10:07

---

As a building manager or owner, you understand the importance of professional security in your building. Security is not only responsible for the safety of your residents but also the condition of your building. A maintenance issue, detected early can be the difference between costing tens of dollars and tens of thousands of dollars, perhaps even more.

Professional security in your building both detects and deters crime, while making your guests and residents feel safe. It also prevents entry to trespassers and unauthorised people. Our highly motivated staff are able to perform concierge and night auditing duties as well as maintain the security of you building.

Sunstate has experience in providing security for apartment complexes and high rises as well as leading hotels.